

Cognitio College (Kowloon)

The school held its 52nd speech day on December 12 to celebrate the students' wonderful achievements. The event was also a chance to share good news. The school has received a generous donation of HK$1 million to set up a Cognitio College Jubilee scholarship and grant fund.

Principal Au Yeung Wai-yin spoke about students' hard work in debating, writing, art and sport. She said that the school's strong alumni network had opened many doors for the students. Meanwhile, Ngai Wah-sing, marathon runner and co-founder of Green Monday, spoke about inequality and social enterprise.

And after the official ceremony, everyone enjoyed watching the school choir sing Let It Go from Frozen. There was also a great performance from the school band to celebrate its 15th year.
